MINCO FAVORS BRIDGE BONDS

Minco Minutrel. At a mass meeting of the citizens of Minco at the lodge hall Monday night to discuss the proposed bond issue of $100,000, $50,000 of which is to be used in the construction of a bridge over the Canadian river, a straw vote was taken, which resulted in 30 votes being cast for the bonds and 4 against. While this vote will be taken by the commissioner, as showing the sentiment of this voting precinct, it is probable that those who did not attend the meeting are in most instances either only lukewarm or opposed to the bonds, and when the real issue is put up for decision at the polls the sentiment will be more evenly divided. Those who failed to express their sentiments at this time, if opposed to the bonds, will have to bear their share in the expense of the election, nevertheless.

It is reasonable to suppose, however, that Minco would be more strongly in favor of the bond issue than any other portion of the county, even though the greater per cent of the money derived from the issue will be spent on smaller bridges over the country.

As an example of the sentiment in the rural communities, the vote at Parrish Hill went 18 against to 14 in favor of the bonds.

New Stars.

Many questions have been asked in regard to the probable fate of new stars, after they have ceased to attract special attention. It has been shown that such stars which have appeared in recent years have been converted into nebulae, and later, in many cases, into extremely faint stars of apparently normal condition.

Boils and Pimples Dangerous S. S. S. Your Remedy

Standard For Fifty Years

Modern science has proven that boils and carbuncles, pimples and unsightly skin blotches, are the danger signals of diseased blood. Scaly skin and itching of Eczema, Scrofula, rashes—all skin diseases are aggravated by bad blood—it's the infected blood that's dangerous. Don't wait for the boils. If you have pimples and blotches, take instant action. Pimples tell you that your blood is filled with impurities. You must wash out your blood, strengthen and stimulate it to healthy action with Nature's own blood tonic, S. S. S. It is the standard blood purifier of the world. Don't use any drugs, don't use ointments and salves. S. S. S. reaches the blood, drives out the impurities. It makes healthy perspiration—the poison is literally sweated out through the skin. Boils, blotches, Eczema and the Scrofula indications disappear. It does what salves and lotions can never do—it goes to the very root of the trouble by reaching the blood. Your skin becomes clear and you will feel the vigor of the return of perfect health. S. S. S. is purely vegetable. You can get it at any drugstore, but you must take S. S. S. Let us tell you about blood diseases. Write for book of facts, "What the Mirror Tells." If yours is a long standing case, write for expert advice to S. S. S. Co., Atlanta, Ga.

A Lovely Negligee of Yellow Crepe

Some of the most beautiful tones of yellow are even more delicious in crepe, it seems, than in any other material. The adorable negligee pictured here, has been made up in all the flowerlike colors: rose, blue, lavender, pink and in pale green, and it is exquisite in all of them, but in light and glowing yellow it is simply a glorious garment.

It is combined with a net-top-lace in deep cream color and is very simply cut. Anyone with any knowledge of sewing can undertake to make so simple a pattern. The bodice portion is cut in kimono fashion with sleeves and body in one piece. It is gathered to a narrow soft netting at the waist line. The long plain skirt portion, with hemmed opening down the front, is straight and is also gathered to the belt. The bottom is finished with a three-inch hem.

When the body and skirt have been made and joined at the belt the lace is to be set on. Choose an open mesh pattern and one having a pretty finish on the edge. The lace should be three inches wide, or it may be narrower, a ruffle of the lace to the waist line. Turn the top edge of the lace down about an inch and a half, to form a standing ruffle. When this flange has been set about the waist, small chiffon roses in light pink, blue and yellow with pale green chiffon leaves, are to be set over it in a row, with one color following another. These roses are important and the negligee would lose character without them.

A width of three or four inches is cut from the top of a length of lace to form the ruffle for the neck and front of the body. The remainder of this length will make the ruffles that are set on to the ends of the sleeves. The narrow, standing ruffle makes a heading and a single chiffon rose in pink, with its blue, pale green leaves, is set at the top of each ruffle against the net.

The negligee is worn with a cap to match. It has a small lace plaque at the center of the crown. A puff of crepe is gathered to this and edged with lace. It is drawn up about the face on an elastic band. A row very small chiffon roses are set with bows of narrow satin ribbon in the flounce or lace that falls about the face.

JULIA BOTTOMLEY.

Made to Delight the Eye

"If eyes were made for seeing, then beauty is its own excuse for being," said a very wise man. And so these lovely new little coquetries of dress present themselves without excuses. They are small extravagances made to charm the eye, first of all, and to be a little useful also.

A corsage rose and a poppy are made of rich ribbon and mounted with velvet millinery foliage. They are to be worn on the corsage at the belt, or on the muff. Both millinery flowers and those of ribbon and velvet are among the alluring trifles of this kind that captivate the fancy and add a bright charm to autumn furs.

Besides the rose, there are orchids and dahlias and velvet poppies with petals edged with fur. And in the heart of these flowers is a little secret. Hidden under stamens or petals is millinery's tiny box of French powder in a cake, and a diminutive powder puff of a very practical kind. Furthermore, a little mirror in a little bag is concealed by the foliage in some of the
